2022 International Alumni Conference

Fostering University Business Collaboration for Employability Promotion

Leipzig, September 19 – 21, 2022

The SEPT Competence Center for Small and Medium-sized Enterprise Promotion and Training at Leipzig University is pleased to invite you to this year's International Alumni Conference with a focus on "Fostering University Business Collaboration for Employability Promotion" (Leipzig, September 19 – 21, 2022). The conference is a collaboration between the MA program in Development Management (MADM; The Institute of Development Research and Development Policy - IEE; Ruhr University Bochum) and the MA program in International and Development Economics (MIDE; HTW Berlin)

During the conference, we will combine formal presentations with hands-on workshops, where participants will be working together on formulating a common position on a range of business collaboration for employability promotion and the role of higher education institutions (HEIs) in this context. This event is designed to maintain or regain contact with Alumni who have graduated from different programs related to small and medium-sized enterprises, development economics, and related branches.

Proposal Submission

This call addresses particularly alumni of the programs MA in Development Management (MADM); MA in International and Development Economics (MIDE), and Small Enterprise Promotion and Training Program (SEPT).

SEPT and its collaboration partners invite alumni practitioners that are related or work in

- University-Business collaborations;
- any kind of University Business Linkages (UBLs);
- any successful case of internationalization of your own business or of one in which you have been actively involved

Special focus should be given to the three workshop topics (the final titles might be subject to change pending the submitted alumni applications):

- Transfer Structures at HEIs for Employment Promotion
- Competencies of University Lecturers for Employability Promotion
- Competencies of Universities in Graduate Employability Promotion

For submitting your application, please fill the form at the end of this document and e-mail it to Dr. Pablo Barriga (sept.intouch@uni-leipzig.de) by April 15, 2022. Additional documents can be submitted as attachments to your mail.

Each submission shall contain (see form below):

- A letter of motivation (required; max. 400 words): Please describe your professional affiliation with the conference topic, preferably with a brief illustration of your role in the topic.
- Indication which workshop topic is of specific interest for you.

The conference team screens all proposals and selects the applicants to participate in the conference with full financial support. If required, additional materials/documents for selecting the application might be subsequently requested. All information and material provided by the alumni will be treated confidentially.

In order to facilitate a flawless organization of your conference participation, please use consistently one e-mail-address for communicating with the conference team sept.intouch@uni-leipzig.de

Notification of acceptance to the Conference:

Participants will be selected for the respective workshops by a board of reviewers of the partner institutions based on the submitted applications. Selected participants will receive a notification of acceptance to the conference by May 31, 2022.

Costs and Funding:

No conference fee is charged. Invited participants who are international alumni of the cooperating institutions will receive funding for their flight to the conference and for accommodation during the conference.
